This summer is all about mastering the balance of seasonal accents in your home. From paint effects that promise to transform your walls and fabrics you can't help but fall in love with to utilitarian collections and a gentle application of the Midas touch, there is plenty to inspire change...

► Sinking into sumptuous soft furnishings is a feeling you can't beat after a long, hard day. Thankfully filling your home with indulgent fabrics has now become even easier thanks to Crowther & Sons. In line with its 30th birthday celebrations the master upholsterer has upgraded its fabric library at the Nettleham showroom to include many of the UK's leading fabric houses such as Romo, Harlequin and Boeme Design, which is exclusively available through the Lincolnshire-based company. To celebrate its arrival Crowther & Sons has produced a selection of scatter cushions using the Boeme fabrics priced at £79 each. For further information call 01522 510520, visit the showroom at The Barn, Ashtree Farm, Sudbrooke Lane, Nettleham, Lincoln LN2 2QQ or click to www.crowtherandsons.com

Cracking concrete

► It might be hard to fathom but it is all about concrete this season. From beautiful decorative objects to statement furniture, Cox and Cox definitely has it covered. Distressed concrete combined with traditional oak accents and cast in quirky yet tactile shapes makes this unusual trend surprisingly easy to incorporate into your home. Prices start from £14.50, all products available at coxandcox.co.uk

Get some metal

► Finishing touches are looking unashamedly luxurious so don't be afraid to get some metal. Copper, gold, silver, bronze, you name it, there's a collection to compliment your home. For copper tops, Rowen & Wren's Moscow mule mugs, £18, are the perfect host for a cuppa or a cocktail, while golden girls should look to Biba's home furnishings at House of Fraser.

► Imagine a wall that mimics lava flow, one that twinkles with reflected light like a thousand stars, or even one that mirrors the effect of scratched stone in any colour imaginable. With Luxury Decorative Paints you can test the limits of your imagination when it comes to paint. Launched earlier in the year, Luxury Decorative Paints are manufactured in the shadow of Mount Etna and available in the UK through Nikkolor UK Ltd, based in Lincoln. User friendly and kind to the environment this luxury paint range has made unique wall effects available to the masses.
